About me:

I am passionate about meeting and interacting with people of diverse cultures and backgrounds as well as creating a strong niche of academic and professional networks which could enhance career development, future career opportunities, research collaboration and ultimately produce outcomes that could benefit mankind. In my leisure, I love to cook, play games and explore nature.

My favourite quote:

*"Together we can make the world a better place through our conscious contributions" -
Chicken Soup for the Soul by Jack Canfield, Mark Victor Hansen*
