

Cuong Ong, Vietnam

CLIFF-GRADS Project:

Assessing consumers' economic value of low-emission rice?

Home University and PhD:

University of the Philippines Los Baños (UPLB), Agricultural Economics.

Host Institute and Supervisor:

International Rice Research Institute, Vietnam office, Hanoi;
Dr. Bjoern Ole Sander.

About me:

I have a desire to carry out research and participate in any international projects that would benefit the environment, rural communities and rice production in Mekong River Delta. Thus, I want to increase my capacity to understand, investigate and implement low emissions development and build my research skills in the field of greenhouse gas mitigation in agricultural systems.

My favorite quote:

"If you focus on the hurt, you will continue to suffer. If you focus on the lesson, you will continue to grow"

