

Indigenous
Research
Network

The Global Research Alliance on Agricultural Greenhouse Gases presents...

Indigenous Research Network:

The Power of Inclusivity

Date: 14 August 2024

Venue: Convention Centre of Trujillo, Peru

Hosted by New Zealand and Co-Sponsored by Peru, Australia, Canada, and the United States. This workshop gathers young Indigenous Peoples as emerging leaders to identify how their communities use traditional knowledge and practices to improve food security and climate change resilience. Participants will build strong connections and have the ability to share and have their voices heard in this safe environment. Participants will learn from young indigenous leaders and get the opportunity to brainstorm their own aspirations, challenges, and solutions in regard to the impacts of climate change on their communities and economies.

How do we best enable future generations with the abilities to sustain their environment?

Key themes of this workshop:

Indigenous Inclusivity - Empowering Youth - Agricultural Climate Change Resilience – The Intergenerational Transmission of Traditional Knowledge and Practices – Community Action Research - Sustainable Adoptions – APEC Food Security Roadmap to 2030.

REGISTER HERE

Be part of the change now!

Website - YouTube - Email